

Not Made of Iron

But only of flesh and blood,—therefore you cannot withstand the attacks of the many fatal diseases that make annual appearance at this season—you need a good tonic, blood purifier and appetizer—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss H. H. HUMPHREY.

"I realize I am not made of iron, but only of flesh and blood. I also realize that Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the spring medicine for me. I owe my good health to this good medicine." CAPT. E. J. MCCOMISKY, Beverly, Mass.

Family Medicine 15 Years—After Diphtheria—Blood Poison Eliminated.

"I wish to tell of the great benefit Hood's Sarsaparilla has been to me, and of the high opinion in which it is held in our house. We have used it as our family medicine for fifteen years, and we would not be without it. For a general spring medicine to purify the blood and give one a good appetite, we think there is nothing to equal it. When I was recovering from that blood poisoning disease, Diphtheria, my blood was in a very bad condition, and my face seemed always covered with pimples, coming from the humor in my blood. I followed good advice, and began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. On the second bottle I felt that my health was very greatly improved. I gained in strength, and knew that my blood was being purified, because the pimples all disappeared. I am glad to acknowledge the good I have received from Hood's Sarsaparilla." Miss H. H. Humphrey, 19 South Street, Medford, Mass., March 25, 1906.

Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up the whole system; purifies and renovates the blood; cures scrofula, eczema and all humors; dispels languor and lassitude; cures dyspepsia; creates a good appetite.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the World's Greatest Spring Medicine. Thousands testify to its marvellous curative powers. It makes one feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. Buy a bottle and begin to take it today.

Sarsatabs

To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate tablets under the protected trade name Sarsatabs, as well as in the usual liquid form. In reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in Sarsatabs the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. 100 doses one dollar. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Wakefield singled out to Noel in center field who threw to Fisher and Fisher threw wild over the plate, letting both Dailey and Wakefield score. Buck was then put out short to first.

Darling scored for the home team in the fifth and Pitkin pounced out a home run over the center field bank for the visitors in the same inning. CANDIDACY BOOMING.

Burke of Burlington Says He'll Be on the Spot.

Burlington, May 12.—The candidacy of Mayor James E. Burke for the Democratic nomination for governor is booming. The mayor said that he could not tell what the convention might do, but that he would be there and looking out for his interests.

The situation is summed up by one politician in this manner: Mayor Burke will poll the labor vote, both Democratic and Republican. Clement will poll a lot of Republicans, so that Burke will stand a good chance of winning out at the polls.

RATE BILL A GOLD BRICK

So Declares Senator Teller In Asserting the Country

IS BEING HOODWINKED

Says Roosevelt Is Misled—False Pretensions Made as to What the New Legislation Will Accomplish.

Washington, May 12.—The people of the country are being handed a gold brick," said Senator Teller of Colorado yesterday, in discussing amendments to the rate bill limiting jurisdiction of the courts in granting temporary restraining orders in rate cases.

"I do not believe it will do what the President expects or what 90 per cent of the American people believe it will do. I do not believe the friends of this legislation are directing this bill."

Senator Teller predicted the people would not patiently submit to the incompetency or dishonesty of the Senate, and that a day would come when the Senate would be compelled to pass adequate legislation.

The Senate yesterday rejected, by a vote of 54 to 23, Senator Bailey's amendment to the railroad rate bill providing that a rate fixed by the interstate commerce commission should not be suspended until reversed by the court.

Three Republican senators voted for the Bailey amendment, Messrs. Burkett of Nebraska, Hale of Maine and La Follette of Wisconsin.

Eight Democrats voted against it, Messrs. Bacon, Clark of Montana, Culberson, Daniel, Morgan, Newlands, Pettus and Tamm.

Mr. Bailey, in presenting his amendment, reviewed the attitude of President Roosevelt on the question of suspension of rate by interlocking decrees of the court, and declared that the President had, in his message to Congress and in other ways, insisted until recently that rates should not be so suspended. Mr. Bailey charged the President with having surrendered his position on the question to the demands of the Republican senators, and that the President would and it very difficult to explain satisfactorily to the country his change of heart. Mr. Bailey admitted, however,

FIREMAN'S FUND POLICIES AS GOOD AS GOLD.

Jan. 1st, 1906, the combined assets of the Fireman's Fund of San Francisco and the Home Fire and Marine (the liabilities of which it guarantees) amounted to $9,055,504.

The losses by the recent conflagration, as carefully estimated by President Dutson and reported to the New York Insurance Department, are placed at not exceeding $4,000,000, therefore the Fireman's Fund, after paying all of its "Prisco" losses, will have $5,055,504 for the protection of its liabilities, including the Home Fire and Marine and the Pacific Underwriters.

A new company, to be known as THE FIREMAN'S FUND INSURANCE CO. CORPORATION, with $1,000,000 capital and $1,000,000 surplus, is in process of organization, and when legally completed will at once take over the entire business of the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company. The organization of the new corporation was thought desirable, not because of any financial weakness of the old company, but in view of the loss of valuable records. All interests are fully protected and Fireman's Fund policies are now, and will be in the future as in the past, worth exactly 100 cents for each dollar of liability.

that full credit ought to be given to the President for rate legislation, because without his help Congress would never have enacted this legislation.

Numerous protests against the free pass amendment recently adopted have been received by senators, and a discussion of the subject in the Senate yesterday indicated that the amendment will be reconsidered and that provision will be made for allowing officials, agents and employees of railroads and the families of employees to receive passes.

The railroad rate bill was taken up at 11:40 o'clock. There was an average attendance.

Senator Allison presented the first of his compromise amendments. It strikes out the word "fairly remunerative" from the fourth section of the bill, as descriptive of the rates which the interstate commerce commission may prescribe. The amendment was adopted without debate or division.

Senator La Follette made objection to the second amendment, limiting to two years the continuance of the commission orders. He moved to strike out the limitation, and spoke in support of his motion. Mr. La Follette's motion was voted down, and the Allison amendment was then adopted.

BUSY DAY FOR SULLOWAY.

The Regular Order Was Demanded by Williams.

Washington, May 12.—Representative Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, is persistent in his opposition to the transaction of business without proper presentation of bills, on their passage, to the House. When the House yesterday decided to take up bills on the private calendar (pension bills), Mr. Williams insisted that Mr. Sulloway of New Hampshire, chairman of the invalid pension committee, should rise and properly move the passage of each bill. As there are 230 private bills, this will require Mr. Sulloway to rise 230 times. As the gentleman from New Hampshire is six feet seven inches tall, Mr. Williams said he believed that this exercise on the part of the "tall pine of the Merrimack" would add something to his stature.

Vote Today on Alcohol.

Washington, May 12.—The Senate finance committee heard George S. Clapperton of Grand Rapids, representing wood alcohol interests, against the free alcohol bill yesterday, and expects now to reach a final vote on the bill today, after other wood alcohol representatives have spoken. The bill will be favorably reported.

After Coal Deals Now.

Washington, May 12.—Announcement was made at the office of the interstate commerce commission yesterday that the investigation now being conducted under the Tillman-Gillespie resolution with respect to coal and oil will be continued in Philadelphia next Tuesday. This hearing will be confined strictly to the subject of coal.

RAS "YELLOW DOG" BOOKS.

Records Reported in Hands of District Attorney Jerome.

New York, May 12.—There was a report about the Criminal Courts Building Thursday that certain books and records of the Mutual Life Insurance Company's department of purchase and supplies, which disappeared simultaneously with the dropping out of sight of Andrew G. Fields, who administered the Mutual's "yellow dog fund," had fallen into the hands of District Attorney Jerome. The report, which was not entirely devoid of circumstantial detail, had it that these books and documents were still in existence, and had not been destroyed, as certain men interested in the Mutual have been anxious to have the public believe.

The books and records which have fallen into Mr. Jerome's hands are believed to contain the accounting Mr. Fields was compelled to render to the trustees from time to time of the vast sums placed in his hands to be spent where the money could do the most good. Mr. Jerome had discovered so far through the special grand jury investigation that for the last twenty years sums amounting to $100,000 a year or more had been charged up to "supplies" without the regular books of the department of supplies showing what had been obtained in return for the money expended. By the time the present jury has finished its work, Mr. Jerome expects that it will have accomplished the purpose for which it was convened. This, it is said, is not so much to get immediate indictment as to ascertain facts on which specific charges against individual offenders may be brought before another grand jury or before the courts in the regular way.
